Letter of Recommendation for Tom Kerr

I highly recommend Tom Kerr and have had the pleasure of working with Tom for thirteen years, during which time he has consistently demonstrated exceptional skill and dedication as a writer and editor.

Tom has been invaluable in crafting and refining various materials for my corporate audience, including newsletters, presentations, marketing copy, and special reports. His unique ability to thoroughly research topics and integrate that depth of knowledge into his writing ensures that our content is informative and engaging. Furthermore, Tom has an impressive talent for capturing my voice and producing copy that resonates profoundly with our corporate audience. This skill will greatly benefit any organization.

Tom's work has always been of the highest quality, a testament to his unwavering commitment to excellence. His meticulous attention to detail, creativity, and ability to meet tight deadlines have made him an indispensable partner in our communications efforts. This steadfast dedication to maintaining a high standard of excellence has led me to continue partnering with him over the years. I am confident he will bring this same level of commitment, expertise, dedication, and innovation to your projects as he has to ours. He is a remarkable writer and editor who would significantly contribute to your team.

Please feel free to contact me if you require any further information. I wholeheartedly endorse Tom Kerr and am certain he will excel in his future endeavors.

Sincerely,

Sarah Hathorn
